NOTES FROM THE PREZ

Happy New Year to all, hope everyone survived the holidays and got everything they wanted for xmas. Thanks to all that attended the xmas party at the NCO club and to Ben for setting it up. John and Bobbi Koll and Walt drove to Denver for the annual brunch in Georgetown on New Years Day with the Denver club. Sorry more could not make it.

Yes, those of you who did not attend the xmas party might not know but I am still the president. The other officers are Marcia Shuck VP, George and Cindy Hupp, secretaries and John Koll Treasurer. Walt is still OCC rep and Ben Benzel is in charge of membership as well as general go-for for NCO club nites and club house host etc. He also helps out with the DRIP-LINE along with Dorothy Malew and Lillian Block.

Hope to see all of you at the January meeting.

TRI-STATE MEET

3/22/91

The annual Tri-State meet held with New Mexico, Utah and Colo will be in Gunnison this year on May 17-19 at the Dos Rios motel. The phone is (303) 641-1000. The room rate is either $35.56 or 39.74 incl tax depending on room size. We are the host club and should get the reservations in as soon as possible or you will not be staying at the host motel. It is a small motel but does have a restaurant and lounge as well as the banquet facilities. If you do not get your reservations in early you will be stuck at another motel.

The Saturday nite dinner will be a buffet $9.69 incl tax and tip. There will be a parade and a show and shine on Saturday. Let us have a good turn out. There is a travelling participation trophy for the most club members from each, we have never even come close in the past. Any questions call Steve.

OCC

Your president had to make one of those command decisions that earn him the big bucks, John Koll had to send a check to OCC for 1991 dues and I okayed it over the phone. The OCC is asking $3.00 per club member for paying the lobbyist this year. He gets $15,000 a year for his services. The part that concerns me is if very many clubs drop out of the OCC because of either this or other differences, the bill to each club will be higher next year. It is my understanding that several clubs have not paid for last years Lobbyist fees yet, let us hope the OCC gets this cleared up quickly. Walt will probably know more in the January meeting. By the way the OCC dues are $25.00 which Walt paid at the January meeting.

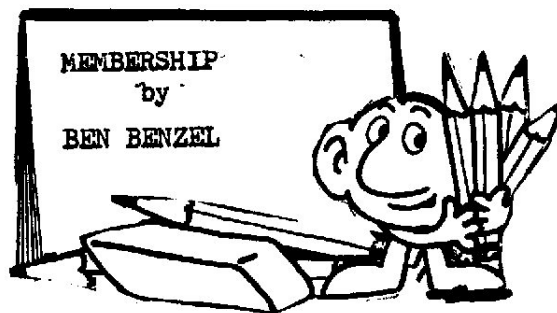

GREAT AMERICAN RACE

Walt Hundertmark was instrumental in bringing the route of the Great American Race through Colorado Springs for 1991. They will use the Springs as a rest stop. The city should benefit from all of the people staying here as well as all the car clubs. Good job Walt.

ELECTIONS

The election this year (1990) did not amount to much. With no volunteers for President or V President and John Koll continuing his fine job watching our money the only office vacated was Secretary. Dale Carroway has done a fine job in 1990 but with a number of pressing duties is not able to continue. George and Cindy Hupp volunteered and with no one to run against them, so went the election. Thank you Dale for last year as well as Marcia and John.

Steve Goodman

The following named members have dues now due or past due. Membership in the Pikes Peak Corvair Club is very important to us and a $10.00 family membership per year is most economical. Dues can be mailed to Pikes Peak Corvair Club Inc. P.O.Box 15034, Colorado Springs, CO. 80935, or better still bring your dues to our monthly meeting. Any questions please call Ben Benzal at 598 - 6886.

REPLACING WINDOW GLASS - John G. Osburn - SAN DIEGO CORVAIR CLUB - March 1986

When replacing window glass into the old metal channel that grips it, you can do it yourself easily. Get some old fashioned rubber electrician's tape (not friction tape) and fold it over the joint edge. Then use some white gasoline to soften the tape and lubricate it before pressing it into the channel. I find that gasoline lantern fuel works nicely for this. The gasoline melts the surface of the tape, making it very slippery to aid in installation. After the glass is in place, use more of the gas to clean up any mess on the glass.

After a few hours the gasoline has evaporated and the tape will stick quite tightly to both the glass and the channel.

When removing glass from old junk yard channels, the gasoline treatment will soften the old dried original tape and make the removal of the glass much easier with much less chance of breaking.

Fine-tuning our tailpipe tests

FOR THE vast majority of car owners on the Front Range, the annual emissions test is a waste of time and money. Their vehicles always meet the standards.

But the state continues to insist that all vehicles be inspected in service stations anyway, because up to now there's been no other way to identify the grossest violators — the 10 percent of the cars on the road that account for half of all the carbon monoxide pollution in the Denver metro area.

This broad-brush approach may eventually end up in the regulatory junkyard, however, thanks to a University of Denver scientist who's invented an infrared "radar gun" that can pick polluters out of the stream of traffic.

The researcher, chemistry professor Don Stedman, has long been dismissed by state and federal officials as an amateur with a promising idea but little credibility. But now that Stedman has gained some national media exposure and verified the accuracy of his device in a field test in Los Angeles, he's beginning to win converts.

It's too early to tell whether Stedman's invention is reliable and effective enough to justify scrapping the current tailpipe-testing system in Colorado — or, for that matter, whether it might merit any change in the state's other broad-based attempt to keep carbon monoxide levels in check: the high-oxygen fuels program.

But the DU professor's central argument — that it makes more sense to target the grossest polluters — seems unassailable.

Moreover, Stedman's discovery that late-model cars may account for a larger share of the pollution than older vehicles casts doubt on another assumption underlying the current anti-pollution programs — the notion that much of the problem can be attributed to junkers owned by poor people, who shouldn't be forced to bear the full expense of any atmospheric clean-up.

Stedman points out, for example, that while 17 percent of the pre-1975 cars fail the tests, their total emissions output is surpassed by the 3 percent of 1983-89 vehicles that fail. In short, the problem cannot be traced mainly to motorists who drive old (and presumably cheaper) cars. Rather, it's caused by those who — rich or poor — drive badly maintained cars.

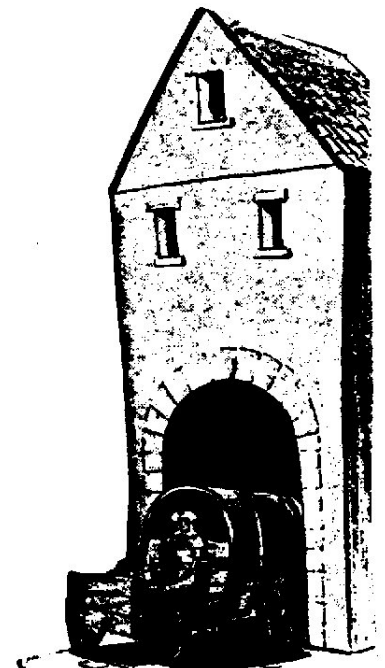

But the challenge facing air-quality officials is not merely to find the "dirty" cars. It's to find the dirty cars that are driven most. As Stedman correctly notes, it's pointless from an air-quality standpoint to require a motorist to make expensive repairs to a car that stays in the garage most of the time.

As an experiment, the state should buy one of Stedman's remote sensors and use it to monitor both ordinary traffic and high-mileage vehicles, such as taxicabs, police cars and delivery trucks — any of which could be responsible for several times as much pollution each day as an average car, simply because they're in constant use.

The devices may not yet have gained the approval of the EPA. But if targeting the worst polluters turns out to be as cost-effective as Stedman suspects, such a purchase could be the most worthwhile investment yet made in improving Denver's air quality.

HELOISE

A few simple supplies help in road emergencies

DEAR HELOISE: With winter coming, you might want to remind your readers of how to be prepared for road emergencies. Every car trunk should contain:

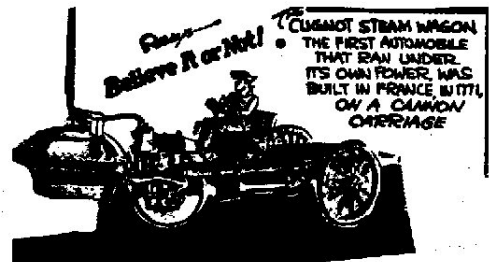

- a flashlight with extra batteries
- an ice scraper
- road salt or cat-box litter
- extra windshield-washer fluid
- a set of jumper cables
- some flares or reflective devices
- an extra container of antifreeze
- a blanket, sweat shirt or jacket
- a pair of gloves and a hat

- sandpaper to clean corroded battery terminals
- plastic sheeting or a garbage bag to kneel on in case you have to fix a flat on wet ground.

In the glove compartment I keep some spare change and a list of telephone numbers I may need for road services.
— Tom Bearden, Raleigh, N.C.

■ Although no one likes to think they will need these supplies, if you should find yourself stranded one night on a cold and snowy road, you will be glad you spent the time preparing for such an emergency.

Window Channel Replacement Tip

By Steven Parker,
Northwest Wisconsin Corvair Club

Courtesy CORSA Communique

When replacing window channels with new stock, save all rosebud retainers that are attached to the back of your old channel. To install new channels, put old and new ones back to back and mark the position of the retainer onto the new stock before removing them. Using a small drill bit, drill a hole through the channel where the center of the retainer split will be. Then put all retainers back into window opening. Line up new channel into the window opening matching drilled holes with rosebud retainer. Using a small flat headed screw, secure each retainer. The screw will go through the retainer's split and if you use a flat screw, you will have a smooth operating window that will not hit the glass.

CAR WON'T START?

What to look for, What to do

BY MARK HENRICKS

The most likely cause for a non-starting car is a failure to get fuel and fire together in your engine. The clue to the problem could be in the sound, so pay attention when you turn the key.

SYMPTOM: Silence or a clicking noise

Likely cause: Dead battery

What to do: If you left lights or the radio on, your battery probably has drained its charge. But batteries also can lose their charge with everything turned off. Flip on the headlights; if they're dim or don't shine at all, you may have a defective battery or charging system, and you'll need a boost.

Before you call for help, check for a loose cable or a kind of white powder caked on the battery. Open the hood and gently poke the flat blade of a plastic-handled screwdriver between the positive battery post (marked "POS" or with a plus sign) and the round cable clamp. Twist the screwdriver slightly while someone tries the starter. If it still won't spin, the battery is probably the culprit. Caution: Be sure your screwdriver has an insulated, plastic handle, and don't touch the metal part of the screwdriver.

Tip: Always carry a set of jumper cables. Be sure you know how to use them safely.

SYMPTOM: The motor spins strongly when you turn the key, but won't catch

Likely cause: Out of fuel

What to do: The gauge may read "full," but gauges can be wrong. Open the gas-tank cap. Rock the car slightly.

—Free-lance author Mark Henricks writes about business, cars, and other topics from his home in Texas.

Listen for splashes. If all's quiet, remember that even racers run out of gas sometimes. Tip: Carry an approved, empty gasoline container in the trunk. Get at least a gallon of gas and expect to have to crank the starter for several seconds.

SYMPTOM: Tank has gas in it, and the motor spins without catching

Likely cause: Faulty fuel system

What to do: Open the hood. Take off the air-cleaner cover. This round, pan-like cover usually is held by a wing-nut screw and a clip or two. Have someone press down on the accelerator while you look down through the middle of the air cleaner, into the throat of the carburetor. (Keep your face a foot or so away, to avoid possible spurting gas.)

Do you see any gas squirting in or vapor rising out when the accelerator pedal is pressed? If not, you could have a clogged fuel filter. Nearly any roadside service station can fix this one quickly and relatively cheaply. Other possible causes, such as an out-of-adjustment carburetor or broken fuel pump, are more complex.

Tip: If your filter clogs often, you may be buying dirty fuel.

SYMPTOM: The motor spins and fires once or twice, but runs so roughly it won't keep going

Likely cause: Loose or faulty spark-plug wires

What to do: Thick, usually black or gray wires connect spark plugs to the round, plastic distributor cap. Press them down firmly at each end. Then try to start the car again.

If that won't do it, remove one spark-plug wire by pulling up on the rubber boot where it connects to the plug. Wrap it in a thick rag to insulate your hand. Hold the booted end near the cast-iron exhaust manifold or any large metal part of the engine, away from the carburetor. Leave the other end plugged into the distributor.

Now, have someone turn the key, spinning the starter for a second or two. Look for a spark leaping from the end of the boot. The wire should send a hot spark jumping across a gap of a couple of inches. If not, it's bad. If wires check out, spark plugs may be the problem. You'll need a wrench to get those out.

Tip: Occasionally check plug wires for cracking or worn spots. Replace the whole set if one is bad. But save the longest good wire from the old set and carry it in your trunk for emergencies.

SYMPTOM: It's a rainy day, and the car's motor won't start

Likely cause: There is moisture in the distributor cap

What to do: Using a screwdriver, remove the distributor cap, which looks like an upside-down cup with all the spark-plug wires coming out of it. Peer in, leaving the wires connected, and look for signs of wetness inside.

Tips: Try drying the distributor's innards with a clean, lint-free cloth. Squirt some mechanic's drying spray into the cap when trouble strikes. If the problem happens frequently, your distributor cap may need to be replaced.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Thanks to all that attended the February meeting. Of special note, thanks to Bob and Wanda Wenc1 for volunteering to be the editors of the DRIP LINE. Bob and Wanda have past experience writing for the local Model A Ford club. Also the Blocks and Malews should be thanked repeatedly for their efforts for the past few years doing the DRIP LINE.

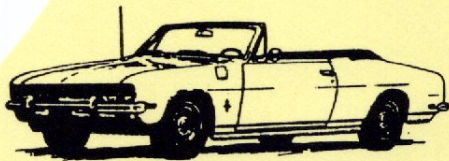

Hope to see you all at the March meeting.

TRI-STATE AT GUNNISON

Time is drawing near for the Tri-State meet at Gunnison. Anyone who has notten their reservations in should do so quickly because there are not many rooms left. The telephone number is (303) 641-1000. After the February meet, it looks like we will have a clock constructed by Dick Shuck and a small portable TV to raffle off to offset some of the costs of the meet. I might add that the insurance papers have been okayed and I have confirmation back from CORSA.

GROUND YOUR BATTERY

If you have broken a clutch cable or a brake cable with fair consistency, you might look at the grounds between the frame and engine. All years have a cable from the ground to the frame and then to the engine. Some even have three small braided straps from the engine to the frame. BUT sometimes the straps are left unconnected after an engine R&R: or on early models, the strap from the frame rail to the generator is left off, or worse, if the rear mount fails, the strap is torn off. When any of this happens, the tendency to ground the starter is taken by the brake and clutch cables. This is tempered wire strands and once hot are ruined.

THE ELUSIVE OIL LEAK

If you have a small amount of oil collecting around the fuel pump and pressure sender area and down around the fan shroud making you think that the gen/alt pedestal is leaking, check first the oil filler cap. The gasket inside can crack and is usually hard to find. Sometimes the two tabs that tighten the cap to the filler neck simply need to be tightened up so that the cap screws on tighter.

As the years mount up on these old cars, I find leaks in places that did not leak when the engines were newer. One is the paper gasket between the oil cooler adapter and the case half. This is not the easiest to get to, the side shroud and sheet metal behind the oil cooler must be removed first. The other is only if your engine has not been rebuilt, the oil pump cover. The constant expand/contract between the metal cover and the aluminum housing finally lets the thin paper gasket start to leak. This is a little easier--remove the rear mount support and skid plate to service. This one is harder to find because the oil is spread by the rotation of the crank pulley and makes you wonder if the rear seal is leaking or did you spill some oil from the filter. Also the pin that holds the idler gear in the oil pump allows oil to seep from it. Same conclusion, metal pin, aluminum housing. The only fix for that one is to replace the rear housing.

ORGANIZE YOUR MAGAZINES

Walter Drake in the Springs has a magazine organizer in their catalog that goes through the middle of the magazine and uses a 3-ring binder to hold them. Price for 12 sheets of 12 (144) is $24.00 They are great to keep your car magazines in.

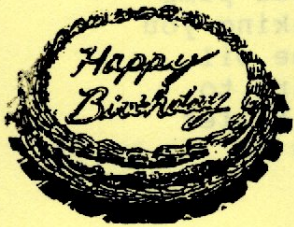

HAS SPRING SPRUNG?

The weather the last few days is going to start bringing out the nice cars. We should get some parade dates for the summer in the next month or so. Anyone who is interested in the parades should watch the DRIP LINE or better yet, attend the meeting and sign up on the spot.

COLECTOR PLATES

The bill introduced by the OCC and sponsors has passed the committee and at present is in the finance committee. Seems that $22,000 is the cost of re-programming the computer for the 5-year renewal. In case you do not know about the bill, at the present time it is 5-year renewal at 5 times the regular price and for cars 1960 and newer, a one time emissions test for the time that you own the car. The emissions test is non-transferable and no refund on your five years if you should sell the car before. Also the car must pass, no limit on dollars spent before emissions.

FEBRUARY MINUTES

The Pikes Peak Corvair Club Meeting was called to order 27 February 1991 at 7:42 pm. by president Steve Goodman. There were 21 members present.

The minutes of the February meeting stand...

THE TREASURERS REPORT: John Koll announced a balance of $ 750.00.

OLD BUSINESS:

A motion was putt on the floor for a small T.V.set to be raffled at Gunnison. No one is opposed, the T.V. will be the raffle prize. The air cleaner clock has not been built yet for one of the door prizes.

There will not be a judge for the show-n-shine. It will be a people choice and two trophies will be given for first and second place. Ben Benzel has offered to donate 2 of his trophies to use at this event. Also there will be a long distance trophy and a hard luck award. This award will be made by Steve Goodman. Also we need to bring door prizes but, not too many! Last year we had approx. 110 people attending the show and we are expecting just as many this year and maybe more. The Pikes Peak Corvair club is sponsoring this event.

NEW BUSINESS:

There was no drip line for the month of February as the Blocks are no longer editing the Drip Line. We need a volunteer to do this job. Bob Wencil has volunteered his time on a temporary basis.

Cruz Action April 12,13 in Denver

Ben Benzil said that he could have a club banner professionally made of vinyl 3'x5' with our club logo, which is similar to our club patch, for approx.$ 150.00. This would be used in Gunnison. A motion was putt on the floor and motion was passed. We will not need this until May so Ben will shop for the best price. Also the subject of the club carpet sign was brought up and a stand will be made $o it will be fee standing so both sides may be seen.

OCC REPORT:

We need 10 volunteers for the OCC swap meet and a sign up sheet was passed and we have 11 people signed up. This will be June 1st and 2nd.

The issue of collector plates was discussed and the new laws will be voted on this year and go into affect Sept. of 1991. There may be a grandfather clause. For more information on this talk to Walt.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:30 pm. with door prizes to follow.

Respectfully submitted,

A high schooler said to his father one night:
"Dad, I've found just the right car I need. It's only seven years old, in good shape, and the owner said he will let me have it for just $600."

"I find myself unable and unwilling to accede to your persuasiveness for such a bauble of extravagance," said the father.

"I don't get it," said the son.

TECH TIP

TOTE A SPARE BEARING

Carrying a spare rear wheel bearing in my 1966 Corsa seemed like a good idea. I removed one complete with backing plate and axle yoke from a parts car and neatly placed it in the trunk with my usual assortment of items carried on long trips. After carrying it many thousands of miles, it was finally needed and I was lucky to be home at the time. I had overlooked two items. One, the emergency brake cable hole was in the wrong side, ie, it was from the opposite side of the car. The other problem was the tapped holes in the yoke were 1/4-20, the ones in my car were 5/16-24. This was a change made in 1966 - the parts car was a '65. Needless to say, the job took longer than I planned.

To remedy the problem (and for future spares), the following modifications were required. Drill another 1/2" hole in the backing plate and plug the unused hole with a plastic plug. Drill and tap the yoke to the required 5/16-24 UNF with an 11/32" counterbore 3/8" deep. I would recommend this change for any 1965 yokes in that the larger bolts are much stronger and easier to install.

Bake 350° 50 min

CHICKEN HABANJA

1 BROILER FRYER (3 #)

1 cup freshly squeezed orange juice

1/2 cup soy sauce

1/3 cup packed brown sugar

10 thin slices ginger root.

1 cup sliced celery

2 tbsp cornstarch mixed with 1/2 cup water.

Arrange chicken skin side up in single layer in large shallow baking dish. Mix orange juice, soy sauce and brown sugar; pour over chicken. Sprinkle ginger root and celery around chicken.

Bake in preheated 350° oven 50 min.

Remove chicken, stir cornstarch mixture into pan juices. Put chicken skin side down back in baking dish. Bake about 10 min longer until sauce thickens.

Garnish with orange and parsley. Serve with rice.

Well, I didn't have some of the ingredients, so I used frozen orange juice, 2 tbsps, and white sugar. Used 1 tsp thyme and 1 tsp powdered ginger.

So this is the 2nd recipe. Lillian B.

The rest of the years to present are tighter also. The purpose of changing the standards is the ACC is looking for a 35% failure rate and discovered that less than 35% would fail under the old standards. This I learned in a conversation with Michael O'Toole of the ACC.

From all of the cars that go through me that I have either tested for the customer or seen their test sheets, these new standards should not affect the majority of us with our cars at this time. There are however a group of older cars that simply will not clean up with some major work.

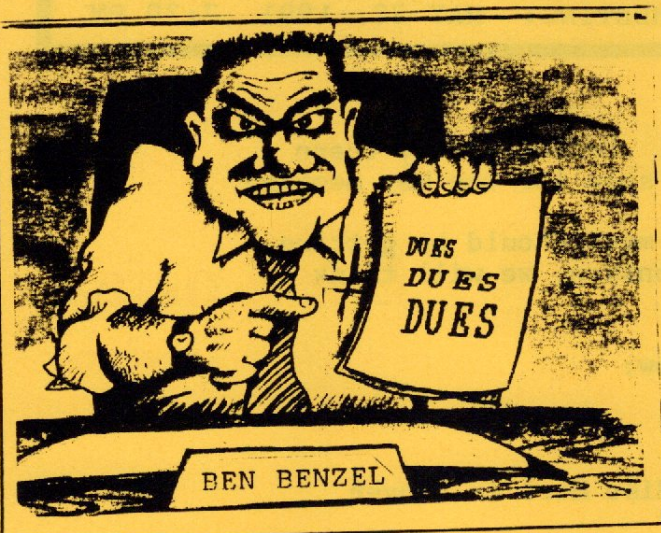

I personally believe that it is possible to reset these standards at regular intervals and remove the older cars completely. The Corvair is not that hard to clean up into the 3% and 500ppm range which is late 70s standards but much more than that is really tough. The engine has to be running very good to do this which means more money will have to be spent. I have seen some even cleaner than that but not that many.

PICNIC WITH THE CAMERO CLUB

Cindy Hupp has had a conversation with the folks in the Camaro Club about a get-together with us this summer. More will be known on location and date at the next meeting.

ALL DRIVEABLE CARS FOR SALE MUST BE PUT THROUGH THE CAR CORRAL

The Pikes Peak Corvair club was called to order 24 April 1991 at 7:50pm. by president Steve Goodman. There were 15 members present.

The minutes of the meeting stand....

THE TREASURER'S REPORT: John Koll says the balance is $784.25 and still solvent!

OLD BUSINESS:

Old business is.... Ben Benzel! ha! On a more serious note, Steve Goodman says the motel is full for Gunison and it looks like there will be a fair turn out from the Denver club. Ben Benzel brought in 3 trophies to donate for the show-n-shine at Gunison. Also the banner for the parade has been ordered, it is red, white and blue in the shape of our club logo. The cost was $49.00. Good price! The cripple creak parade is Saturday June 29th. The club will meet at Denny's see next month for more details.

NEW BUSINESS:

Ads for the drip line will be decreased to: 1 full pg. ad will be $20.00 per month and 1/2 pg. ad will be $10.00 per month. Business card ads will be $2.50 per card and a classified ad for non-members will be $2.50. All club members are free for classified ads. This year's pic-nic meeting will be July 24th at 6:00pm at the club house, the motion was passed to have it in July this year. Also, will there be club participation for the Spring Spree this year? If you are interested please contact Ben. The Colorado Springs Camero Club would like to pic-nic with us this summer and socialize with us. It would make a nice combination and we can all show off our classic Chevy's! The club secretary is working on this project, will keep you up-dated.

OCC REPORT:

Walt and Steve Goodman both attended the OCC Presidents' night meeting. Norma Anderson was given an award for her work on the collector car plates. Many other awards were given but... none to Steve or Walt! ha! There will be no Grandfather clause in the revision for collector plates. So get ready for emissions checks. The OCC car show Oct. 25, 26, 27 will be at Currigen hall this year and each club is allowed 5 spaces this year.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:34 pm. with door prizes to follow.

CLUB PICNIC

A discussion at the April meeting determined that August evenings can be too cool for a lot of the members so it was decided that the club picnic be held in July this year. It will be at the regular meeting night, July 24 at the NCO club house. Starting time will be 6:00pm. Dividing the duties of salads and desserts and other tidbits will be done in May or June. This is a good feast, everyone should plan to attend.

CLUB BANNER

A lot of the clubs have a banner and now PPCC will have one also. Ben Benzel has found a source and the price sounds more than reasonable. Thank you Ben.

A Quick Check on Corvair Ball Joints

By Howard King
Corvair Houston

Since bad ball joints can cause lots of problems, here's a quick, easy way to check them:

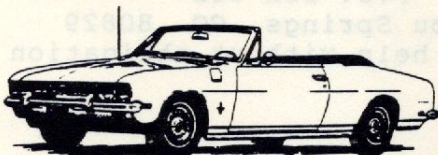

First, with the vehicle on a flat, smooth surface, inspect the upper ball joints. Grasp the top of a front tire with both hands, push and pull, in and out, with a movement across the car. Any play is unacceptable. Go to the opposite side and check it the same way. NOTE: Loose wheel bearings can give an indication of slack also. To check this, look for movement between the drum and backing plate. Repair any bearing play before going on with ball joint inspection.

Second, to check the lower ball joints, jack the wheel up with the jack as far out toward the tire as possible, until there is about 2" clearance to the ground. With a large pry bar, pry up on the bottom of the tire. A 1/16" play, up and down, is acceptable. Lower jack and proceed to the other side.

WHEEL BEARING ADJUSTMENT

It's not unusual to repack or replace a front wheel bearing and then when you are adjusting it, to find that the notches in the castle nut will not line up with the axle hole. Well you don't need to get out the drill and make a new hole, nor do you have to live with the loose bearings there's probably enough loose on the car as it is!). Use one more valve spring shims behind the nut to get the proper pre-load and allow the castle nut notches to line up with the hole.

NOTES FROM THE PREZ

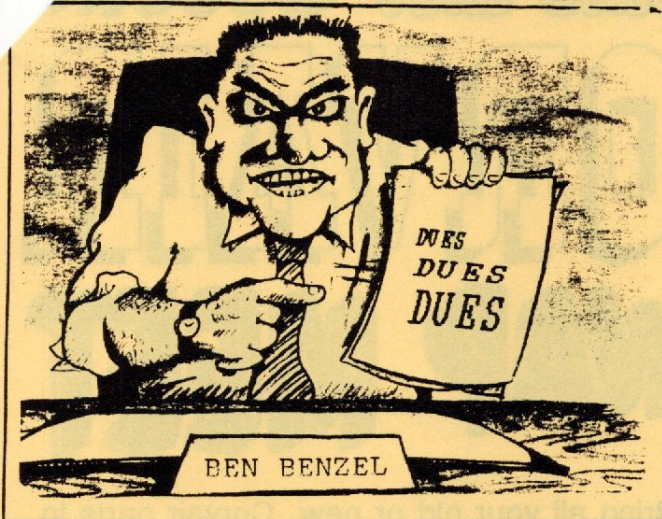

I apologize for not having the articles in time for last month. I was waiting for the finalization of the mall show at Rustic Hills and I knew that Editor Bob Wencil was on a tight deadline and just did not get the stuff to Bob in time.

As you read this, the mall show is over and apparently a fair success to the mall. Those showing cars were Ron and Sandy Lezon, Dick and Marcia Shuck, Walt Hundertmark, Ben Benzel, Sid Jones, George and Cindy Hupp, John Koll brought three including the cut-a-way, Steve and Ruth brought two and Ray and Nye Schick brought four cars.

Thanks to all of you and those who watched the cars and table throughout the showing. Special thanks to John Koll who made several trips for stanchions as well as his cars and to Ray and Nye who had to make a couple of trips. Thanks to Marcia Shuck for heading up the entire show. We also picked up a couple of new members too.

The meeting this month (July) will be the picnic meeting. Ladies should bring either salads, desserts, etc. Meat, drinks, etc. will be furnished by the club. Starting time is 6:00 p.m.

TRI-STATE AT GUNNISON

Eighty seven people attended the banquet Saturday evening in Gunnison as the culmination of the annual Tri-state meet. The highlite of the evening was awarding trophies, first place to Nye Schick for her 65 convertible. Second place to Ralph McDonald of RMC.

The parade and car show at the park Saturday afternoon had 36 Corvairs drive through Gunnison with a police escort to a park. The townspeople of Gunnison turned out to look at the cars and talk to the owners.

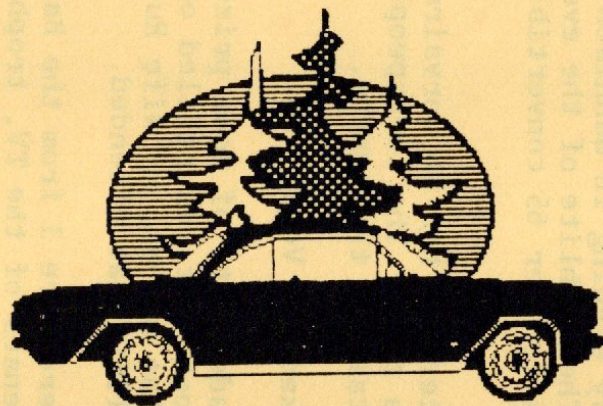

Next year is Albuquerque turn and they have picked Las Vegas, NM.

I would like to thank Wanda Wencil for her handmade gifts of door prizes for the ladies, Dick Schuck for his handmade clock that was raffled off, Ben Benzel for the trophies and other errands that he ran, my wife Ruth for running the registration and everyone from PPCC that attended.

In addition to PPCC, RMC and Corvairs of NM, there were 3 from the Bay area and a couple from Oklahoma. After the expenses of the TV, trophies and door prizes the Club made a little money too.

The frantic father called the doctor late at night. "Please hurry," he said, "my son has just swallowed a ballpoint pen."

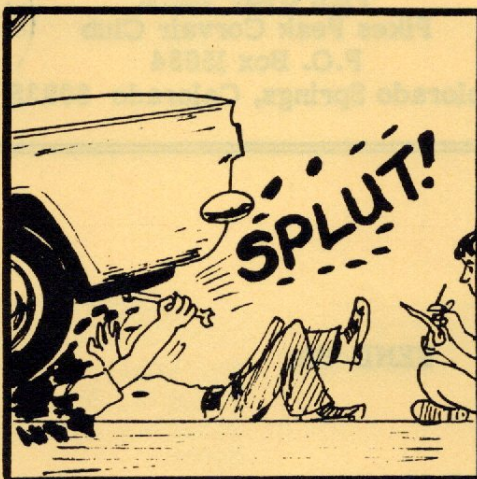

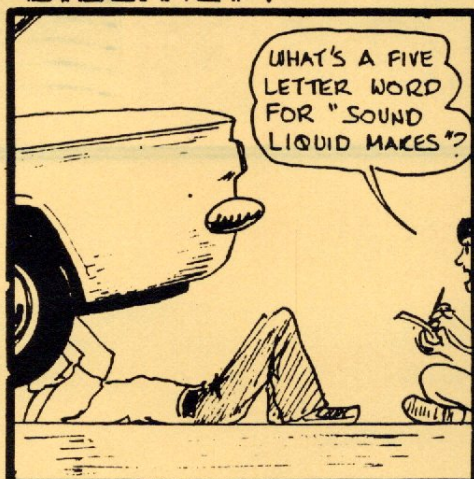

"I'll be there in 20 minutes," said the doctor.

"What should I do until you get here?" the man wanted to know.

MINUTES FROM JULY MEETING

The Pikes Peak Corvair club was called to order 24 July 1991 at 7:35 pm. by president Steve Goodman. There were 30 members present. And two guests from the San Diego corvair club, Marsh and Carol Hessler. Also a thank you to Bob Wencil and Ben Benzel for all of their efforts and work for the BBQ and to all of you who brought some great dishes.

The minutes of the meeting stand...

THE TREASURERS REPORT: We are solvent and we made $375.00 from the Rustic Hills mall club show.

OLD BUSINESS:

A special thanks to Marcia Shuck for her time spent organizing and babysitting the Mall show. Also a thank you to the people who attended and to Ray and Novice Schick who entered 4 corvairs! The Christy Barden swap meet and BBQ will be Sunday Aug 25th, bring a dish and the cost to get in is $2.75 per person and $1.50 for kids, kids under 6 are free. There was no talk of a caravan. Starts at 11:00am.

NEW BUSINESS:

There may be some interest to get a list of all the vin #s for corvairs in the state to flush out all of the corvair owners. The cost for this may be split 3 or 4 ways between other clubs. It would be $250.00 and $80.00 per hundred names after that. Our club is going to host the Denver club for brunch at the NCO Club Sunday Oct. 13th at 10:30 am. More info to follow. It has been decided that the Aspen tour in Cripple Creek will be Sunday Sept. 15th. Meet at Dennys at 9:00am at Bijou and I-25 to caravan. We have 2 new members in Payton. Also Ben Benzel is looking into the Christmas party and it was voted that we have it at the NCO club again this year, either Dec 4th or 11th? There is a inter-club pic-nic on Sunday Aug. 4th at Fox Run park in Black Forrest. This is a coalition of all Colorado Springs car clubs together. It should be great FUN!! Each club is responsible for bringing their own pot luck style food. There will be grills available for use and hopefully a volley ball net. We may start arriving any time after 8:30 am. If you have any further questions contact Vicki Keeney at 520-1184 during the day.

OCC REPORT: Walt was not present to report this month.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:00pm. with door prizes to follow.

Respectfully Submitted,

SO YOU REPAIRED THAT LEAKY WINDSHIELD AND THE RUG IS STILL GETTING WET !
(LATE MODELS)

Perhaps not as wet as before, but still wet. This is a terrible blow after you have done your very best to properly seal the windshield. Out comes the garden hose to create some instant rain. After going through the rain dance you rush to open the doors to spot the leaking areas. Many times you will find no visible leaks at all. One reason may be that your artificial rain, though just as wet as the real thing, does not strike the car in the same way as the real thing. When a car is driven in a rain the water strikes in a different manner. Also, when you check for leaks with a hose you must be careful not to force the water into the door or window seals. This gives a false impression of leaks that do not exist, during a normal rain situation.

Usually the problem is being caused by leaking side vents. No leaking water is visible. The rugs just slowly get wet. Even worse, is a vehicle with a rubber floor mat. It may be soaking wet underneath the rubber and you will never know until the floor falls out.

To check for vent leakage, the first thing you do is pull the edge of your rug or mat out from under the edge of the air vent assembly. Now back to the water hose. Spray water into the fresh air grille just forward of the windshield. Spray it towards the outer area of the grille where it drains downward into the frame and finally out through slots in the bottom. As this water makes its way downward, part of it hits the outer side of the vent assembly. When the vents are installed they are sealed with putty. This eventually dries out and shrinks away from the surfaces that it is supposed to seal. The water seeps through the cracks, and follows the vent assembly down to its bottom where it seeps into the rug or under the mat. With the rug pulled back you will be able to see the water trickle in if the vent seal is faulty, and most of them are.

To reseal the vent assembly you must first remove the entire unit. The slotted air grille is held in place by four snaps moulded into the edge of the grille. You must bow the grille slightly inboard to remove it. I use a wide, thin putty knife for a removal tool. The air inlet grille has two horizontal bars. You will find the snap tabs near these bars and under the cover lip. Place your tool under the lip and push forward. At the same time, hook into the grille at its center and in line with your forward push. Pull inward as you push forward and the tab will pop out of its hole. Repeat the operation for the second tab. Note; Be careful on your center pulling effort. Pick a sturdy point and don't overpull or you will break a vane out of the air grille. Once the grille has been removed you can see the four screws that hold the whole assembly in place. Remove the four screws. Also remove the air vent door. To remove the door, place it in the closed position, and lift the pushrod off the door's control pin. Now, push the door to its open position. Lift the bottom of the door from its pivot hole and push outboard and the door will come out of its top hinge hole. The vent assembly can be removed with the door in place, but I find it easier to work with it out. The door sill overlays the rear edge of the vent assembly and must be removed. Now, reach into the center of the vent assembly, and pull it inboard. The only thing holding it at this point is the sealing putty. Once the unit moves inboard enough to clear its seat, you then move it to the rear to clear the door frame.

Now that you have removed the complete vent you are ready to really get with it. First, reach into the vent hole and check the bottom area. The normal thing is to find it full of rotten leaves. Remove all the leaves and rinse out with a water hose. How much cleaning in this cavity is up to you. I usually brush whatever I can reach and spray the interior area with Rustoleum. Clean off all the old sealant from the seal area, and also the old seal on the vent unit.

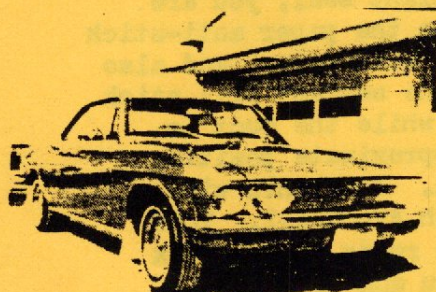

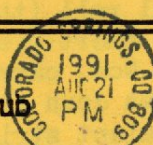

You are now ready to put new seal material into place. You may have your own ideas on that. I have tried several over the years. I have been using window seal material lately with very good results. A roll of this material will do a Vair windshield and both vents also. The material I speak of is a round strip of very sticky rubber-like material. It comes in a roll with a separating ribbon of slick paper. When it touches a clean surface it sticks to it. Place a strip of seal completely around the duct hole in the car body. This should be applied close to the edge of the hole but not intruding into it. Now, cut paper from the seal roll (the paper that keeps the seal roll from sticking to itself) into short pieces. Place them on top of your newly laid circle of sealant. Now, carefully place the duct back into its normal position and press down all around the sealing area. Remove the duct and check the sealant strip. If it is contacting properly it will be flattened some. If it is still round in shape you will have to add more sealant to the low areas. After adding more sealant, you may need to repeat the trial fit. If the seal now indicates a tight seal, you are ready to make the final installation. First remove the paper anti-stick strips. Next, wet the sealing surface of the duct with water, and also the surface of the sealant. If you don't do this the sealant will stick to all the wrong areas that happen to get touched while the duct is being jostled into place. With the duct in its approximate position make the final line up by aligning the screw holes. I do this with a piece of wire or a nail. Wet the wire or nail with Armourall. This will keep it sticking to the sealant. Now you are ready to put back the screws. Coat them with Armourall also. If you don't, the seal will stick to the screws, and the turning action will wind the seal from its proper position and onto the turning screws. Now, this may sound like a lot of monkey work but remember that you are making a blind seal that you want to stay leak-free for a long time. I find that the putty seals eventually dry out and crack while the windshield sealant strip will not.

You are now ready for another water test. If it has been properly done I am sure it will not leak. If it does, I am certainly glad to be out of earshot of all the bad language.

The minutes of the meeting stand...

THE TREASURERS REPORT:

John Koll was not present and was feeling poorly but we are solvent with a balance of $1,194.01. (let's have a party! ha!)

OLD BUSINESS:

We would like to send a thank you to John Koll for his participation and help for the Rustic Hills mall show. October 13th is the brunch with the Denver corvair club at the N.C.O. club. Call Ben Benzel the make your reservation, the latest date to reserve is Oct. 10th. The club Christmas party is scheduled for December 17th (a Tuesday) at the N.C.O. club. Steve Goodman said the plan to track Corvairs in the state by vin#s has been scrapped. It would take too much work and time than first thought. The Christy Barden pic-nic and swap meet was a good time and there were more car part's than people! Good ratio!

NEW BUSINESS:

There were two visitors, John Neil and his son Larry. Larry is interested in entering his Corvair in the OCC car show and I believe they are now new members! Welcome! Ben Benzel has been hitting the show circuit this year and has been representing our club and winning!! Hey Ben, still want to sell that fine motor machine? I am going to contact Vicki Keeny at Wreck Masters about the Stokers car show at Phil Long Ford in November. I will make sure that we get the info on that car show. Our next meeting will be our clubs 14th anniversary meeting and we will celebrate with cake and ice cream. Our club was founded September 1977!

OCC REPORT:

The new collector plates are due out in September, they will be a new design. They will not be red and white, let's hope that they will be attractive. The OCC car show is October 24, 25, 26 ,27 and 4 cars per club at the cost of $25.00. This year is at Curriگان Hall. Walt has tickets available now for a dollar less than at the door. The OCC would like to know what issues are important to you, if you need any info contact Walt. His new phone number is 685-9495.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:20 pm. with door prizes to follow.

The following article was submitted by our good friend John Koll and along with Bobbie attended the mini "cactus in the pines". Thanks John Bobbie and I toured to Flagstaff in August to take part in "Corvairs in the Pines" tour hosted by Cactus Corvair Club.

We arrived in Flagstaff on August 14 after a stop over in Durango. The hospitality room was open so we could register and meet some Corvair types.

Flagstaff, for those of you not familiar with it, seems to be basically one long street (Sante Fe) with motels, gas stations and restaurants on one side and a railroad track on the other. The trains are timed to go by whenever you get sleep. Flagstaff is high, 7000 plus feet, so it is cool and they do have pine trees all around it.

On Thursday the tour went to Williams where we boarded a restored steam train for a trip to the Grand Canyon. The second locomotive on the train was a diesel. Don't know if this was a lack of confidence in their steam engine or what. Sort of like having a tow truck follow your Corvair. Guess it was a nice ride, but it doesn't compare to the Durango-Silverton or Cumbres-Toltec trainrides and it cost more. Each passenger car had a hostess who served refreshments (free) and told jokes about blondes. (What does a blonde say when you blow in her ear? Thanks for the refill!) We played tourist at the Grand Canyon for about three hours and then boarded the train for the return to Williams. That evening the tour went to a local observatory. We didn't make that part of the tour.

Friday the tour went to Sedona, about 35 miles south of Flagstaff and about 4000 feet downhill. It is a complete climate change - from cool weather in the pines to hot weather in the cactus. We could shop, eat, shop, look at the rocks, shop, etc. etc. in Sedona. Then we had various options of going to Jerome, old mining town, going to Montezuma's well or castle (I'm sure he never visited either). That evening we were treated to an ice cream social back at the hospitality room.

Saturday was a car show in the park. There were over 30 Corvairs on the tour ranging from a very dilapidated convertible to one that the owner thought was too good to drive so he towed it to the meet. There were only 3 forward controls and they weren't show vehicles. Saturday evening we had an outdoor banquet which was great despite the rain. Fortunately we had a shelter. Awards were passed out. The long distance award went to someone who came by way of Washington, DC. (I think distance awards should be made on the most direct route from home.)

The Cactus Corvair Club did a fine job, especially when you consider that they were doing it long-distance from Phoenix.

We drove our 67 with air conditioning. Our only problem was a sparkplug wire that kept falling off, but it would still do 70 on 5 cylinders.

SUNDAY BRUNCH: Our Sunday brunch with Rocky Mountain CORSA is on track for October 13 1991, at the USAF Academy NCO Club at 10:30 am. This as usual should be a fine affair. Reservations must be made with Ben Benzol not later than October 10th at 598-6886. Prices are: Adults $7.95; 6-12 $4.95; 5 years and younger are free.

COVERED WAGON DAYS, DEL NORTE, COLORADO AUGUST 1990

Rotary to hold another Cowboy Roulette

The Del Norte Rotary will have another Cowboy Roulette this year for Covered Wagon Days.

No, it isn't gambling with a roulette wheel, it's gambling on something a little different.

The Rotary is selling tickets for the noon event at the Del Norte Football field Sunday.

Ticket holders will pick a square on the football field, a cow will be turned loose onto it and the person who picked the block on which the cow relieves itself will be the lucky winner.

All proceeds from the roulette will go into the Rotary College Fund.

RELATIVE FAITHFULNESS

Three men died and went to heaven. St. Peter met them at the front gate and said, "Heaven is a great big place and we'll assign you a vehicle to get around in, based on how faithful you were to your wives."

The first man received an NOS '64 Spyder Convertible, the second one a used Monza, and the third a rusty old 500. The one who got the 500 was somewhat disappointed, but figured that it was fair, based on his degree of faithfulness. One day, as he drove down the streets of heaven, he saw the man who got the Spyder parked at the curb and crying loudly. The third man stopped and asked, "What in the world are you crying about? You got the NOS Corvair."

"I know," said the first man, "and I just saw my wife drive by in a old, beat-up Falcon!"

NOTES FROM THE PREZ

Look at this, I finally got to say something after a couple of months of silence. Actually it is my fault, one month I was waiting and waited too long and last month it got mailed but is still out there somewhere.

I would like to say thanks to all that attended the brunch. Counting guests I think there were 81 present. Thank you Ben Benzel for setting up the facilities.

This is being typed up just before leaving for the Fan Belt Toss and Ben is hand carrying it to Bob. See you at the November meeting.

Do not forget the upcoming Christmas party. See Ben with your money.

ELECTIONS COMING UP

Nomination of new officers will be held at the November meeting. Openings include President, V President, Secretary and newsletter editor. Personally I would hope someone else would like to be president. It is NOT that I am tired of doing it, actually I rather enjoy it, but I feel that you need a new face and a new outlook. I cannot speak for any of the other officers, but everyone needs a rest now and then. Call Ben if you would like to volunteer.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

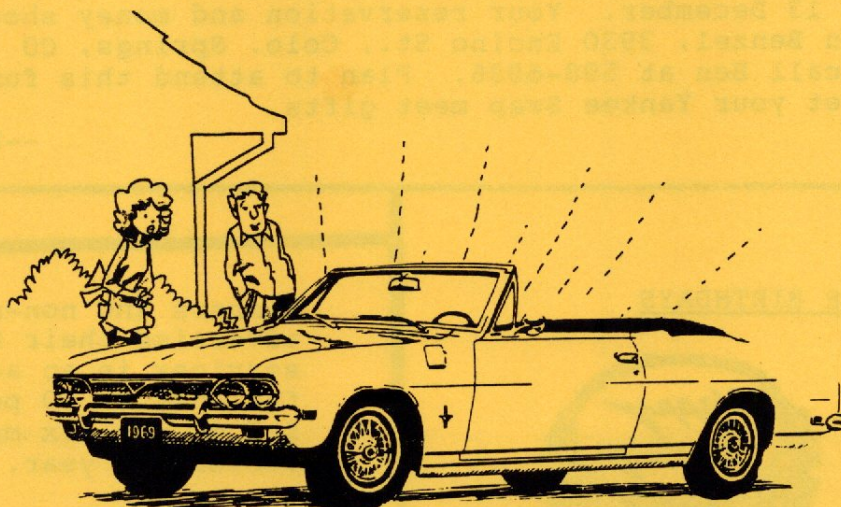

The annual party will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 17th at the NCO Club. The format will be the same as in the past, a good supper and gift exchange afterward. Bring a gift for each of you attending, less than $5.00 each. Mark if necessary boy/girl. The menu is elsewhere in this issue of the DRIPLINE. Ben needs your reservation so call him.

WHAT PARTS TO SAVE FOR THE FUTURE

Back in the late sixties I was telling everyone to buy certain parts for the future. Among them was any rubber trim, transaxles, turbo rebuild kits, and steering boxes. Weatherstrip has now been reproduced but look at the prices. Original turbo kits sold for $40.00, the last price before NLA was $180.00; now changes in the seals must be machined before rebuilding. Transaxles are still fairly plentiful but not growing on trees. Axle bearings for early are now reproduced but again look at the price. New worm gears and ball nuts and pitman arm shafts are absolutely gone.

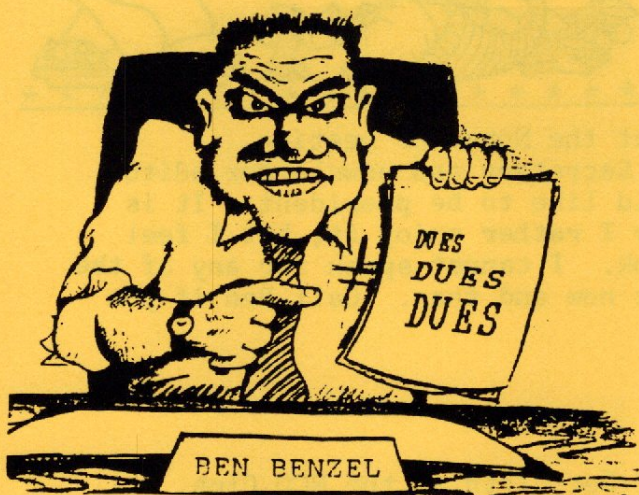

Anyone who is planning on driving their cars for the next 20-30 years as I am, should find a parts car of the same year or scout up steering boxes, etc. and put them on a back shelf. The prices are only going to go up. I do not believe that the parts will become really hard to find, you can still drive your Studebaker or Hudson today because of the popularity of them and the Corvair will be the same I think. However it is easier on the pocketbook to buy a part today than 5 years from now.

Business Is Great, Getting Better for Corvair Mechanics

STEVE GOODMAN DISPLAYS ONE OF THE CARS HE HAS RESTORED FOR HIMSELF Denver Post Photo by Bill Peters
He owns 10 Corvairs, and S. L. Roberts, Goodman's partner in Rear Engine Specialists, owns five.

By PAT MCGRAW
Denver Post Staff Writer

The Chevrolet Corvair died an ignominious death in 1969, probably the victim of charges from Ralph Nader and others that it wasn't safe and of Americans' desire for sportier machines.

But not everyone lost faith in the little rear-engined car, and there are enough tenacious believers to keep two west Denver mechanics as busy as they care to be repairing the aging vehicles.

Steve Goodman and S. L. "Speed" Roberts, owners and operators of Rear Engine Specialists, 3801 Morrison Road, do nothing but work on Corvairs, which is what they have been doing since they opened their shop in 1971.

"Crazy" is what others thought of them when they told their friends and relatives back then that they were going to specialize in an automobile that hadn't even been manufactured for two years at the time. But they have made a successful business, anyway.

In fact, they reported in an interview last week, business is pretty good and getting better.

IT IS BRISK enough that they only accept cars by appointment, and owners can expect to wait three weeks or a month before being allowed to bring the automobile in for work.

According to a spokesman for General Motors in Detroit, there were 1,710,018 Corvairs sold after its introduction on Oct. 7, 1960.

The announcement it was being discontinued was made on May 14, 1969, and the official reason given was because of declining sales.

In Goodman's and Roberts' minds, however, the primary reason GM decided to drop the Corvair was a fundamental decision by the corporation to come up with a new model to compete with the popular "pony cars" which had been introduced by the competition, such as the Ford Mustang and the Plymouth Barracuda.

The result was the Chevrolet Camaro, they said.

AN ADDITIONAL factor, they added, was that the Corvair was being criticized as unsafe because of handling and because there was no engine in front to cushion passengers from crashes.

The men said they have no idea how many Corvairs are still being used in the state, but Roberts said he has been told "they sold more in this area than any other" because people liked having the traction afforded by having the engine over the rear wheels, not having to bother with antifreeze for the air-cooled engine and the lack of a need for a lot of hoses to keep the motor cooled.

Roberts and Goodman said that each day they see an average of two Corvairs they've never worked on before, and their customers come from as far away as California and Texas.

A lot of referrals come from Chevrolet dealerships and other garages, too, they said, "because the Corvair specialists are all gone now."

ACTUALLY, they said, the Corvair engine is easier to work on than most others if you get the knack of it, but a lot of mechanics don't like to deal with a motor with which they aren't familiar.

Another factor boding well for their enterprise, they said, is the gasoline shortage. A Corvair can get 28 miles to the gallon in town and 35 on the highway on leaded gas, Goodman said.

"A lot of people with big cars who have a Corvair just sitting around are deciding it's time to spend some money to get it fixed up," he reported, noting that one recent client brought his old Corvair in for repair so he can use it for getting to work, leaving his large four-wheel-drive station wagon at home.

There is a 180-member Corvair Club in Denver, they said, and some of the cars are doubtless the pets of collectors and hobbyists. But about three-quarters of the Corvairs they see are for day-to-day use by people who want simple and economical transportation.

In fact, "A lot of our customers are getting mad because people will drive up to them and ask them if they want to sell it," Roberts said.

BOTH MEN admit that the Corvair needs some attention that isn't so critical on other automobiles. The type and pressure of tires on a Corvair, for example, is "very important," as is the condition of the suspension system.

But properly maintained, they argue, Corvairs are excellent automobiles.

And they must believe what they're saying:

Roberts owns five Corvairs and Goodman has 10.

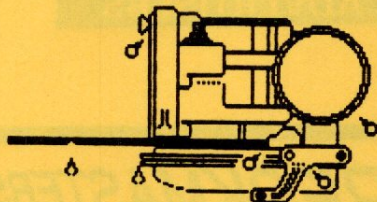

Your editor found an old photo copy of the above article from the May 30, 1979 issue of the Denver Post. It should be of interest to our members and it is very likely many of our members are not aware that our President, Steve Goodman, has been servicing Corvairs for more than 20 years.

POWER GLIDE TIPS

[Extracted from the Corvair Houston Newsletter, as reported by Bill Willhelm, Corvair Houston.]

From the 1989 CORSA National Convention Tech Session on Power Glides, presented by HOACA; author/technical speaker unknown.

Push Starting- Since Corvairs have a rear pump, they can be push-started. Begin in neutral. When speed reaches 20 mph, turn on key and put selector in LOW.

Leaks- Large leakage from a normally dry xmission after being parked for a length of time is from the Torque Converter. It drains into the xmission pan, overfills, and escapes thru a bad shifter seal or shifter cable.

Shifter Seal (cable to xmission case) and seperated Shifter Cable/Casing leakage- replace seal and use a good two-part epoxy to seal the seperated area on the cable/casing. Replacing shifter cable MUST be done exactly as the manual indicates.

Torque Converter Hub Seal leakage- leaks out of the small hole at the bottom of converter housing ONLY when car is driven.

Governor Seal- leaks ONLY when car is being driven.

Throttle Valve Seal- (replace "O" ring).

Severe leak between xmission and differential-either a loose lower left case bolt, or a blown gasket caused by the loose bolt.

Front Pump Seal (rare)- blows fluid out of vent. Caused by a leaking front pump gasket. Usually after a long period of time at high speed.

Vacuum Modulator has a paper gasket under it. When replacing, use a hard (original GM) pan gasket, red RTV, and 10 ft.-lbs.

Adjustments- The Low Band is adjustable, but since the material is so thin, it's probably worn out if much adjustment is necessary. Remove locknut, tighten to 40 in.-lbs, back off four full turns, and replace locknut.

Manual Valve adjustment requires removal of the pan, and use of the illustration in the Shop Manual. The "J" tool is not necessary; observing the relationship of the valve in the bore is satisfactory. Loosen lock-screw to adjust (in "D").

Correct adjustment of the Throttle Valve [Lever] angle is necessary to obtain the correct shift points. Both upper and lower accelerator rods must be adjusted, keeping in mind that to RAISE THE SHIFT POINT, ADJUST THE THROTTLE VALVE LEVER FARTHER CLOCKWISE; to lower it, do the reverse.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

The Pikes Peak Corvair club had it's annual brunch with the Denver club at the N.C.O. club on Sunday October 13, 1991 at 10:00am. This was to take the place of the October meeting.

We had a very large attendance, there were 46 Denver members and 37 Springs members. The food was super and so was the company. There were lot's of fine lean mean motor machines out side in the parking lot. We had our own mini Corvair car show in the parking lot!

Well that's about it for this month and see you all at the next meeting.

The brunch ended with door prizes.

 When the cider's being bottled,
 And you're chock-full of good cheer,
 Then you know by all the tokens
 That Thanksgiving Day is near.

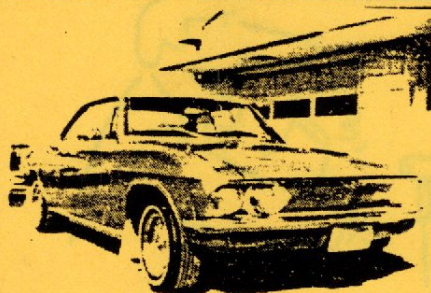

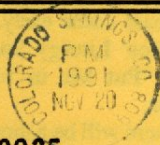

When fresh pies cool in the window,
 Filled with pumpkin, apple, mince,
 And you see bright jars of jelly,
 Made of plum and grape and quince;
 When the turkey's in the oven,
 Stuffed and starting to get tan,
 And the vegetables are ready
 And just waiting for the pan;
 When the kinfolk start to coming
 And they're smiling with good cheer,
 You can bet your bottom dollar
 That Thanksgiving Day is here.
